TRAGEDY AT MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY – At 8:18 p.m. on Monday night at Michigan State University (MSU) a mass shooting claimed the lives of at least three students, with multiple others wounded.

MHSA sends its deepest condolences to the families and friends of Brian Fraser, Alexandra Verner and Arielle Anderson, who tragically lost their lives Monday night. MHSA offers prayers for those who remain in the hospital in critical condition, along with their families as they support them. MHSA stands with the Spartan community as many of us at MHSA attended MSU or have children at the school currently, reside in the area, and have deep and personal connections with the University. MHSA encourages anyone who feels the impact and trauma of this horrible act of violence to seek professional counseling services.

At 8:18 p.m., a gunman shot and killed two MSU students in Berkey Hall, and shortly after killed another MSU student in the MSU Union. There were also five MSU students who were wounded and left in critical condition.

Brian Fraser, Alexandra Verner and Arielle Anderson sadly lost their lives in the senseless mass shooting at MSU Monday night. On Thursday afternoon, MSU police announced that four of the victims in the hospital remain in critical condition, with one being moved to stable condition. MSU police also stated that some of the patients are showing improvement. Families and friends shared the light that Fraser, Verner and Anderson brought to the world. Fraser was a fraternity chapter president and a leader among his peers. Verner was a science student with fond memories of her days as a high-school athlete. Anderson was a frequent volunteer who wanted to become a pediatrician.

MSU has not confirmed the names of those currently in critical condition at Sparrow Hospital.

MSU students held multiple vigils throughout the week for those who lost their lives, and those who remain fighting for theirs at the hospital. One vigil was attended by Governor Gretchen Whitmer, Lt. Governor Garlin Gilchrist, MSU basketball coach Tom Izzo, and MSU interim president and the MSU Board of Trustees.

The shooter was Anthony McRae, a 43-year-old Lansing resident. McRae killed himself when confronted by police hours after he murdered the three MSU students. An investigation is ongoing, and police have begun to release pieces of information.

SENATE PASSES LOWERING MI COSTS PLAN LEGISLATION – Following Senate Republican's cleverly adjourning session last Thursday, the Senate returned to session Thursday to pass the Lowering MI Costs plan, which was anticipated to be passed last week.

The bigger picture: The Lowering MI Costs plan was announced last Monday by Governor Gretchen Whitmer and legislative Democratic leadership. The Senate passed the bill, but did not get it immediate effect. However, the Senate introduced a resolution that could alter immediate effect rules moving forward.

ELECTIONS

- Michigan Democratic Party Chair Lavora Barnes was reelected to a third term over the weekend. Ms. Barnes ran unopposed because former Representative Cynthia Johnson failed to collect enough qualifying signatures to appear on the ballot.

ODDS AND ENDS

- The Michigan Strategic Fund (MSF) approved just over $1 billion in incentives in a special meeting on Monday for a $3.5 billion battery cell manufacturing facility is set to be built in Calhoun County. The facility is expected to be up and running by 2026.
- 21 legislative Republicans submitted a letter to Attorney General Dana Nessel asking formal opinion on whether any person has the power in Michigan law to order that members of the House be barred from the House floor while the House is in session. The issue stems from January 24th when Republican members in the House were denied access to the House floor during a late-night session while the House was at ease because they were told Governor Gretchen Whitmer needed to rehearse her speech.
- The State Board of Education issued a statement of support to repeal the retention portion of the state's third-grade reading law. Board member Judith Pritchett read the statement, saying the board has "consistently supported elimination of this regressive portion of the statute since its enactment in 2016."
- The House Judiciary Committee took testimony on two bills that would allow non-criminal justice agencies to continue to have access to background checks directly from the FBI and allow the state police to continually run background checks for employees. House Bills 4045 and 4069 took testimony only and sponsors of the bills said there are still some details to be worked out within the legislation.
- Former Republican Gubernatorial candidate Ryan Kelley is set to face trial for alleged actions related to the January 6th insurrection at the U.S. Capitol in 2021. Mr. Kelley lost in the Republican primary election, and was charged shortly before it. Mr. Kelley's trial is scheduled for July 31, 2023, in the U.S. District Court for the District Court of Columbia.
